

JAPAN LANDS
SOLDIERS AT VLADIVOSTOK

China Also Participates in First Step
Toward Slav Intervention

CELESTIAL TROOPS
NOW IN HARBIN

Vast Supplies and Munitions in City Held by Nippon Forces

OTHERS DEFY RADICALS

TOKIO, Dec. 10.—The first step toward what may ultimately prove foreign intervention in Turkestan has been taken jointly by Japan and China, both of which countries are at war against Germany.

Japanese troops have been landed at Vladivostok, Russia's great port city on the Pacific.

Chinese troops have entered Harbin, Manchuria, to protect their interests. Harbin is the eastern terminus of the main line of the Trans-Siberian railway. Vladivostok and Amur province as well as the district in the extreme northeast corner of European Russia, comprising the provinces of Orenburg, Ufa, Tiumen and Samara, has declared its independence, according to word received here.

A provisional Government has been established at Vladivostok. A ministry for the new republic met and sent notification of the sections' independence to other self-governed districts of Russia. It was stated.

Official circles in Tokyo had not received formal confirmatory advice on the report, but it was generally accepted as true here.

Loss of Vladivostok to the Bolsheviks, or to any other Russian faction not representative of the whole nation, is a serious menace to the Allies, because of the vast quantities of supplies and munitions stored there.

Anarchy is reported throughout this part of Asiatic Russia. A Russian American society has held an organization meeting at Vladivostok. Its purpose is to maintain order. Several hundred Americans and Russians attended. Including the American consul and the Allied naval commander. The latter, reports asserted, urged the Russians to co-operate with the Allies.

Neither Japanese nor Russian ministers in the Orient have recognized the Bolshevik regime.

There are vast supplies of war stores lying in the warehouses at Vladivostok which were sold to the Russian Government by Japan and the United States. Virtually all of these supplies have remained there because of the interruption of steady traffic on the Trans-Siberian railway.

It is supposed that agreements existed by which these stores were to be used against the German powers, and the landing of Japanese troops was probably accomplished to prevent the munitions from being taken over by the Bolsheviks. It was recently reported that Bolshevik troops were making their way into Vladivostok.

TROTSKY AND LENINE
READY TO COMPROMISE

By JOSEPH SHAPLEN

HAPARANDA, Dec. 10.—The Bolsheviks are ready to agree to a coalition Government, according to word brought from Petrograd by courier today.

Returns from the Russia-wide election upon success of the revolt raised by Trotsky and Lenin, and the government rejected by the Russian people at large. Their majorities in Petrograd and other large cities were completely reversed in the rural communities.

Faced with this knowledge, the Bolsheviks, it was learned, had agreed to submit to the authority of a central committee of workers and soldiers and peasants, combined with representatives of other Russian parties and trades.

The new Soviet committee was said to have approved the coalition and evolved a new ministry. One of the main points in the new constitution, it was declared, was strict regulation that all the people's commissaries appointed by the Maximilians should subordinate themselves to the representatives of the War Office and all measures and acts must be approved by representatives of the central committee.

RADICALS MAY CONTROL
HARBIN, LONDON HEARS

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The Bolsheviks are gaining control of the Siberian Railway and are likely to reach Harbin, according to word reaching here today.

Control of Harbin and the Trans-Siberian Railway would open up the vast resources of Manchuria and Siberia to German influence in the event of separate peace.

Hope of an ironing out of the Russian situation, in London's view, today rested upon success of the revolt raised by General Kaledines and Kornilov, officially reported in a proclamation of the Bolshevik revolution here.

Trotsky-Lenine sources declared the two military leaders were being assisted by the constitutional democrats and the bourgeoisie and that the rebels had "declared war in the Don region against the people and the revolution."

THE WEATHER

THE FORECAST
For Philadelphia and vicinity: Fair and continued cold tonight and Tuesday, with lowest temperature tonight about 10 degrees; fresh northeast winds.

LENGTH OF DAY
Sun rises, 7:12 a.m. Sun sets, 4:34 p.m.
DAYLIGHT SAVINGS
SUNSET STREET
Sun sets, 8:34 p.m. Sun rises, 6:54 a.m.
WINTER TIME
Sun sets, 8:29 p.m. Sun rises, 6:49 a.m.

BERNSTORFF'S SON WEDS AMERICAN

AMERICAN BRIDE
FOR BERNSTORFF

Marguerite Vivian Burton
Weds Son of Former German Ambassador

FOSTER-PARENTS ANGRY

But Philadelphia Insurance
Official Will Welcome Son-in-Law After War Ends

Marguerite Vivian Burton, who once upon a time was a Virginia mountain girl with jet-black hair down her back, and who was adopted by a wealthy Philadelphia insurance official, has married Count Christian Guenther von Bernstorff, son of the former German Ambassador to the United States.

News of the wedding, which caused an international thrill because of the hostile relations between the United States and Germany, came today in a cable message. The ceremony was performed in Berlin Saturday, the news dispatch said.

Word of the culmination of the love story in the enemy country came as a blow to the bride's foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Thomson, of 500 High street, Burlington, N. J. Mr. Thomson is secretary and a director of the Girard Fire and Marine Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, at Seventh and Chestnut streets.

It also set Burlington agog with gossip. The new Countess von Bernstorff, the younger, was recalled there today by women with whom she skipped rope a quarter of a century ago when she wore pigtail ties up with ribbons.

The new German Countess, who surrendered her American nationality to become the young nobleman's bride, is thirty-two years old and a strikingly handsome brunette of many talents. This is her third marriage. Her first husband was James H. Birch, Jr., of Burlington. Her second husband was Count Walter von Bernstorff, an attaché of the German embassy in London. From both of these she was divorced.

No effort was made by the bride's foster parents to conceal their disappointment over the wedding of their adopted daughter, which brought into their family as a son-in-law the son of former Ambassador von Bernstorff, the Prussian who directed intrigues aimed at the Government of the United States.

"I am not at all pleased," said Mr. Thomson at his office. "I am not a German and am not in sympathy with Germany."

The news that Marguerite has married Count von Bernstorff is certainly a disappointment to us and especially to me," said Mrs. Thomson. "Love is a great problem. There isn't any question in my mind that Marguerite is marrying because she loves him. But when the country's future is at stake Cupid, or love, if you wish to call it that, should be forgotten. It would have pleased me if Marguerite had returned to us with an American husband. Von Bernstorff is a German."

Continued on Page Six, Column Six

SOLDIERS DIE IN FRANCE

Four Additional Disease Fatalities
Reported From Troops Abroad

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Four additional deaths from natural causes in the American forces abroad were announced today by the War Department this afternoon as follows:

Private Earl E. Coons, infantry, December 1, scarlet fever; father, J. E. Coons, Present, Ia.

Private Raymond Hamilton, artillery, December 8, measles and pneumonia; uncle, Albert Pea, Rushville, Ind.

Sergeant (first-class) Frank J. O'Leary, medical corps, November 21; mother, Mary A. O'Leary, Roxbury, Mass.

Private William E. Hancock, engineer, December 2; sister, Madeline Adams, Smith Mills, Ky.

Praises Conduct of Cantonments

Lincoln L. Eyre was the principal speaker at the luncheon of the City Business Club given at the Adelphi today. "Supporting the Army From the Home Front" was the subject of his address. Mr. Eyre commended those in charge of the work in the cantonments for "not giving the boys too much relief and declared that the same manner in which this work is being done will be productive of much good."

Dr. John R. Mohler in U. S. Job

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Dr. John R. Mohler, formerly of Philadelphia, was today appointed by Secretary of Agriculture Houston as chief of the Federal Bureau of Animal Husbandry. He succeeds the late A. D. Melvin.

Mrs. Gerard's Operation Succeeds

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Mrs. James W. Gerard, wife of the former American Ambassador to Germany, was successfully operated on here today for appendicitis. Every indication is for Mrs. Gerard's speedy recovery.

65 DEAD, LATEST LIST
OF JACOB JONES LOSS

Apparently Complete Returns
Indicate One Captured and
44 Landed Safely

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The sea had apparently given up the last of the rescued from the torpedoed destroyer Jacob Jones, leaving the death toll at sixty-five officers and men and one captured by the attacking Hun submarine.

Rescue lists indicated that forty-four officers and men had been brought ashore safely. Secretary Daniels had advised Admiral Sims to put ahead news of the tragedy, so that there are other survivors it is likely they will be reported before another day.

The rescue of Lieutenant Commander Bagley, Secretary Daniels's brother-in-law, made the tragedy less poignant with the Daniels family, but the Secretary was still deeply impressed today at the sacrifice of so many lives.

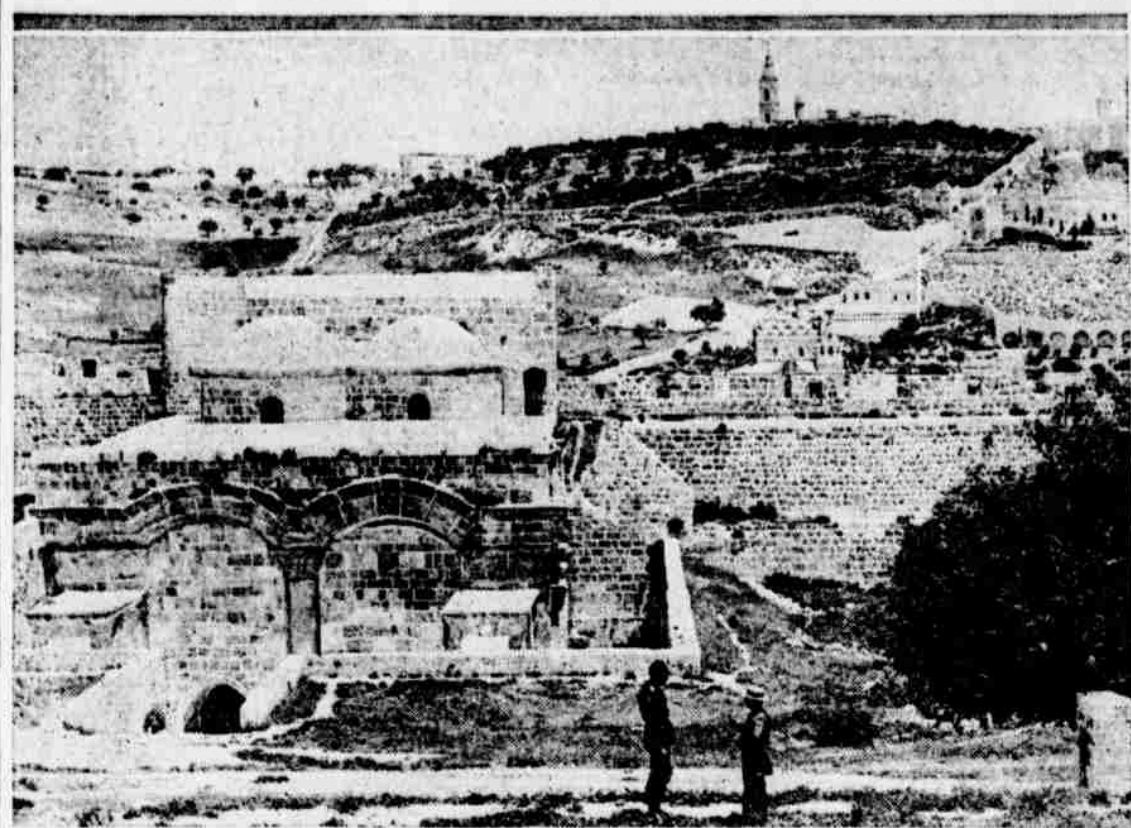

Sunday reports showed the destroyer sank within seventeen minutes after she was struck, and that the attacking U-boat came up after it was certain the vessel had gone down. One was taken aboard, apparently so that the Hun could get the same and named as damaged.

New Orleans Results

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 10.—The results of the election for the Louisiana State Senate today were as follows:

BRITISH CAPTURE JERUSALEM;
TURKS DRIVEN FROM HOLY CITY

HALLOWED CITY OF JERUSALEM FALLS TO CHRISTIANS

General Allenby's British forces have entered Jerusalem, according to an official announcement from London. The photograph shows the sealed golden gate of Jerusalem, through which Christ made his triumphant entry into the city.

Cross Again Replaces
Crescent as Moslems
Surrender Historic
Capital of Palestine

Bethlehem, Birthplace of Christ, Probably
Also in Hands of Victorious English
Army

General Allenby's Triumph Announced in Parliament—Hailed
in London as Good
Omen

Events That Mark
Epochs in History
of the Holy City

TAKEN and destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar in 586 B. C.

Rebuilt by the Jews under Persian rule, it changed hands three times in the next century, being successively under Macedonian, Egyptian and Syrian domination.

Became a separate Jewish kingdom in 1 and 2 B. C.

Destroyed the second time in A. D. 70 by Titus.

Present city founded on ruins in A. D. 71 by Emperor Hadrian.

Captured by the Crusaders in 1099 and remained a Christian capital until 1187, when Saladin conquered the city.

Turks have held possession of the city since 1516.

LONDON, Dec. 10.

Jerusalem, the holy city, has been captured from the Turks by the British army operating in Palestine.

General Allenby will make his formal entrance into the shrine of Christendom tomorrow.

Announcement to this effect was made in Parliament this afternoon. It was based on official advice from General Sir E. H. H. Allenby, commander-in-chief of the British forces on the Palestine front.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Bonar Law, who made the announcement, said that two bodies of British troops surrounded the city and cut it off from the Turkish general lines of communication. Thereupon the city surrendered.

The news spread like wildfire throughout London. Its fall was hailed as a good omen. The most cherished Christmas gift which could be given the world of democracy and the hosts fighting for Christian justice and peace and freedom is this gift of the Holy City to world Christians again, after having been held by infidel hordes since 1187.

SWEEP BEGAN IN APRIL

British armies began their sweep up the valley of Palestine from the Sea of Galilee early last spring. Almost unopposed and overshadowed by the terrific conflict on the west front, first General Murray and later General Allenby pushed steadily upward against the Turks.

Jerusalem's fate was sealed when this British expeditionary force on November 1 captured Gaza, immediately after taking the ancient city of Beersheba. General Allenby sent his forces rapidly north and a fortnight later they took Jaffa, the old city of Joppa, and entered Jerusalem.

From Joppa the British began their encircling movement around the Holy City itself, striking north and east. At latest reports last week, they were within about nine miles of the city.

BETHLEHEM ALSO TAKEN

Bethlehem, where the Saviour was born, lies a scant six miles due south of Jerusalem and is presumably, also, now in British hands.

Jerusalem's fall will be a tremendous blow at Turkish morale, according to the military experts. It must inevitably lower his prestige among the Turkish people. They had been led to believe on solemn royal assurances that Jerusalem would be defended by as large a German army as necessary to drive back the British and protect the Moslem peoples, to whom the Kaiser has always appealed as a particular protector.

In 1914 the Kaiser made a special trip to Jerusalem specifically to announce that he was the protector of the Moslem world. Evidently the Kaiser even then was dreaming of the city.

SUSQUEHANNA RIVER FRO

Cold Snap Closes Stream at East

Date Known in Years

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 10.—Susquehanna River was frozen today, making it the earliest date in its history. The mercury fell to 10 below zero.

DRYS PLAN FIGHT ON SCHUYLKILL LICENSES

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 10.—Wholesale objections to Schuylkill County saloons, on the grounds that they are not necessary, are to be made at the approaching session of the License Court, beginning early in January. Under the decision of the Supreme Court, made last winter, when there was a deadlock between Justice Beckel and Koch, every saloon was to be closed.

WOMEN CARRY HOLIDAY MAIL IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Women will help the holiday rush in New York's post offices by serving as mail carriers. Ten women went on duty today. Shifts of three or four hours a day will be given them.

SUSPEND HIGHER LUMBER RATE TO EAST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Certain schedules providing for increased rates on lumber in carloads from southern producing points to Philadelphia and other eastern destinations were further suspended today by the Interstate Commerce Commission until June 15, 1918.

FINNS GIVE PRESIDENT FIVE-YEAR TERM

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 10.—The Finnish Diet has adopted a form of republican government whereby a President will be elected every five years.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR HAS GONE TO FRONT

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 10.—Emperor Karl of Austria-Hungary has gone to the southwest front, according to Vienna dispatches.

FIRE DESTROYS DWELLING

The two-story frame dwelling at the corner of Nineteenth street and Jersey avenue, Gloucester, owned by the estate of George S. Koehler and occupied by Leonard Eckler, was destroyed by fire at 5 o'clock this morning. A side of the old Geisel Hotel, adjoining, also was damaged.

Rowen to Be Host of G. A. R. Post

On Thursday evening, December 13, the anniversary of the Battle of Fredricksburg, William Rowen, of the Board of Education, will tender a dinner to the members of Pennsylvania Reserve Post No. 191, G. A. R., of Philadelphia, at Soula's Cafe, Arch street below Broad.

ITALIANS RETAKE
PIAVE POSITION

Bridgehead Won Back
From Teutons Near
Caposile

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 10.—Count Czernin, the Austrian Foreign Minister, has promised to send Austrian troops to the western front to re-enforce the Germans, said a telegram from Berlin today, adding: "The German press is jubilant." In the meantime German troop trains continue to pour into Flanders from the east.

FOE PUT TO FLIGHT

TEUTONIC TROOPS WERE DRIVEN IN FLIGHT OUT OF THE WHOLE CAPOISILE
POSITION ON THE LOWER PIAVE RIVER
AND THAT POINT WAS RECAPTURED BY ITALIAN
TROOPS, TODAY'S OFFICIAL STATEMENT ASSETS.

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—More than 200 prisoners were taken when German troops on the Piave delta stormed an Italian bridgehead at Sile, east of Caposile, today's official statement asserted.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in Italian Venetia or French Flanders. Second, it is the infusion of new blood, new life, new spirit at a timely moment.

English troops were driven out of sections of trenches west of Gralnourt, the statement also announced. North of Lavacquerie an English attack broke down.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Allied re-enforcements are now occupying trenches in the battered positions until recently held by the Italian troops, now relieved for a needed respite.

The British position is around the heights of Montello, on the upper Piave, where the batteries on the heights are already in action and rifle fire answers the steady sniping from across the river. The French position cannot as yet be indicated, but it is in an equally important sector.

This transfer is significant. First, it is visible evidence of Allied unity, not alone in conferences but on the fighting lines. It is evidence also of unity on the western front, whether in